

Della Wang

Director, ESG

Della Wang is Fengate's Director of ESG working across the organization's infrastructure, private equity and real estate portfolios. She is responsible for overseeing the environmental sustainability, social responsibility, and corporate governance of the Firm's investment and asset management activities.

Prior to Fengate, Della was a manager in the sustainability and climate change practice at Deloitte, leading teams to support clients on a wide range of emerging and complex topics, with a focus on climate strategy, decarbonization modeling, and capital optimization. She was also the national sustainability learning lead and led the national efforts on nature and biodiversity.

Prior to that role, she was a valuation and financial modeling professional supporting M&A due diligence, business valuations, purchase price allocation, litigation support, and fairness opinions.

She graduated from the Richard Ivey School of Business with Honours. She is a Chartered Professional Accountant and a One Young World Ambassador.
