

Jeff Cohen

Director, Information Technology

Jeff Cohen is the Director of Fengate's Information Technology department and is responsible to partner with, elevate and support all Corporate IT services, infrastructure, and applications, for all business units.

Jeff is a seasoned IT professional who has a proven track record of managing, building, training, and coaching high-performing IT Teams. In previous roles, he has been successful in managing large scale retail point of sale upgrades, planning and implementations of cloud migrations for IT Infrastructure and applications, and restructuring IT Teams to improve IT alignment with organizational objectives.

Jeff has more than 20 years of experience in a variety of industries which includes real estate, retail, restaurants, and loyalty program management.